

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

NOVEMBER 14-16, 2025

POLICY SIMULATION: FORESIGHT 2035 – MOROCCO AND EUROPE IN A SHIFTING WORLD ORDER

APPLICATION DEADLINE:
OCTOBER 13, 2025 (MIDNIGHT GMT+1)

Background

In today's rapidly changing world, Morocco and Europe face profound transformations driven by geopolitical shifts, climate change, digital disruption, migration, and new global power dynamics. Anticipating these developments is critical to building resilient policies and innovative cooperation frameworks.

To foster forward-looking thinking, the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung Morocco and the Policy Center for the New South are co-organizing a national-level policy simulation exercise. This unique event will immerse young Moroccan professionals in a dynamic foresight environment to explore potential futures for Euro-Moroccan cooperation in 2035.

Objectives

- Explore possible scenarios for Morocco–Europe relations in 2035.
- Equip participants with practical skills in strategic foresight, negotiation, and systems thinking.
- Produce actionable policy insights and joint recommendations.

Format

Dates: November 14–16, 2025 (2.5 days)

Location: Policy Center for the New South (PCNS), Rabat

Language: English

Participants: 25 young Moroccan professionals (aged 20–35) from policy, research, civil society, and related fields

Methodology: Transformative Scenario Planning (TSP) combined with policy simulation

Output: Policy brief summarizing key recommendations for Euro-Moroccan cooperation
